

Roche Molecular Biochemicals Catalog 2001!

Consult our Catalog and keep up to date with our current range of products for life science research

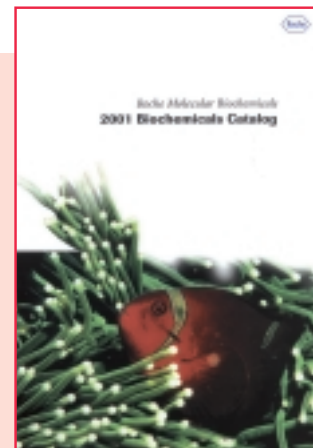

→ You are probably familiar with the Instrument Systems from Roche Molecular Biochemicals including the LightCycler, MagNA Pure and Lumi-Imager. We now offer several NEW Reagent Kits and Accessories for these systems.

→ New! Rapid Translation System RTS 500

We would like to draw your attention to this revolutionary new system and related products for cell-free protein expression.

→ The catalog is structured to enable easier and faster navigation within the range of products. Each product is described in detail including technical characteristics and applications.

→ In addition to this hard paper copy version, the catalog may be accessed online via our homepage <http://biochem.roche.com>. A CD-ROM version of the catalog will also be available soon.

Please contact your local representative if you have not already received your personal copy of a Roche Molecular Biochemicals Catalog 2001 or if you require information on the catalog on CD-ROM.
